III. DETAILED ACTION

Claims Presented

1. Claims 1-27 are presented for examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

4. What is meant by "behavior"? In the specification, such as at page 2, this "behavior" is explicitly mentioned as existing within the context of a trigger for the search to proceed in a direction and circumstance. Yet, if the claims themselves were read independently of the specification, then this "behavior" would mean something entirely different. In the broadest sense, the word "behavior" could even mean the "behavior" in the normal definition of the word "behavior."

Double Patenting

5. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

6. Claims 1-27 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claim 16 of U. S. Patent No.

Art Unit: 2175

6167400 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: for instance, the associative database handling of claim 16 of US Patent 6167400 is that of the behavior handling of claims 1-27 of this application. Behavior handling of claims 1-27 involve a trigger for the search to proceed in a direction and circumstance. In comparison, claim 16 of US Patent 6167400 involve determining if the associative database indicates a match and using the result as a trigger to proceed in a direction and circumstance. Additionally, the other limitations of claims 1-27 are obvious extensions of that behavior handling -- note the discussions on behavior at page 2 of this patent application.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant was prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application during prosecution of the application which matured into a patent. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.

Potentially Allowable Subject Matter

7. No claim is allowed. Nevertheless, as indicated in rejections sections, some subject matter in the specification appears to be allowable (or at least more coherently discussable) upon a proper response to the rejections.

Conclusion

8. The art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The art disclosed general background.
